House Upholds Defense Cut

Humphrey, 67, Resigns As Treasury Secretary

Anderson Named To Cabinet Post

WASHINGTON, May 29 (P)—Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, the most powerful man in the Eisenhower Cabinet, today handed in his resignation after four years and four months of directing the nation's fiscal policies.

President Eisenhower accepted the long-expected resignation with "profound regret." He immediately nominated Robert B. Anderson, former deputy secretary of defense, as Humphrey's successor.

The exact date when Humphrey will step down was not announced. He asked to be relieved "no later than the close of the current congressional session."

Problems Coming Up

Eisenhower indirectly asked Humphrey to stay on the job until "a number of critical problems" have been settled. Presumably this means Humphrey will be on hand to testify next month when the Senate Finance Committee begins its long-heralded investigation of the government's economic and fiscal policies.

When the change does come, Humphrey is expected to be named board chairman of National Steel, the nation's fifth largest steel company. He was one of the company's founders 30 years ago.

Humphrey, 67, has long been planning a return to private industry to make way for a younger man. Anderson, 46, will come to the government from the post as head of Ventures, Ltd., a far-flung industrial corporation with mining interests in Africa and Canada.

Believer In Economy

Humphrey, an ardent disciple of the "mystic mood from a day-long conference where Stassen outlined the still-secret U.S. proposals before permanent representatives on the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It was understood that all 14 other members of NATO had lined up behind it. He got his wish, and has crossed departmental lines with regularity ever since.

Last January, Humphrey declared that if the government didn't stop its heavy spending over a period of time, "I predict you will have a depression that will curl your hair."

That statement came as Eisenhower presented his record peace-time budget of nearly $2 billion dollars to Congress. It brought a flood of reports that Eisenhower and Humphrey were at odds. Both men denied it, and there was never any sign, publicly, at least, that they were in any disagreement.

Arms Control Plan Gets NATO Support

PARIS, May 29 (P)—Harold E. Stassen, President Eisenhower's disarmament adviser, today won preliminary Atlantic Alliance support for a new American arms control plan to present to the Soviet Union. He also pledged to consult America's NATO allies on all new disarmament developments.

Diplomats emerged in an optimistic mood from a day-long conference where Stassen outlined the still-secret U.S. proposals before permanent representatives on the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It was understood that all 14 other members of NATO had lined up behind it. He got his wish, and has crossed departmental lines with regularity ever since.

Moch scoffs at report

If and when formal government approval is received, Stassen will be able to present the plan to the Russians as one representing the entire Atlantic Alliance.

French Delegate Jules Moch scoffed at reports that part of the plan called for a ban on manufacture of nuclear arms except by three powers—the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain—which already have them.

Authoritative French sources had said such a plan would be absolutely unsatisfactory to France.

No Exclusive Atomic Club

Moch told reporters, "There was never any question of the United States, the Soviet Union and Britain forming an exclusive atomic club which would have a monopoly. That is not the American policy at all."

Instead, he said, "The U.S. position is like that of France and I will tell you what that is:

"We are ready to renounce nuclear trials and possession of nuclear weapons on condition that the three agree not to manufacture or stockpile new arms and reconvert their existing stocks to peaceful uses."

Two Planes Collide Over Baltimore, Land Safely

BALTIMORE, May 29 (AP)—An Air Force C-45 twin-engine plane and an Army-leased single-engine plane, both on instrument flights, bumped 2,500 feet over Baltimore today, but were able to land without mishap. Five men were aboard.

The nose of the Air Force craft had a dent described "as big as a basketball." The tail of the small Cessna 182 was badly damaged and almost sheared off.

Three Air Force officers were aboard the larger plane, which had taken off from Bolling Field, Va., a short time before the collision for an instrument check. They were Capt. Robert A. Francis, the pilot; Col. B. W. Humphries, and Col. A. D. Moore, both of Arlington, Va.

In the smaller plane were Army 1st Lt. James John O'Connor of Cleveland, O., and Richard E. Zentz of nearby Reisterstown, a civilian pilot-instructor.

O'Connor, assigned to a transportation unit at Fort Eustis, Va., was taking instructions on instrument flying from Zentz.

Zentz said the Air Force plane came in from above on his left at about a 90-degree angle and slashed into the plane's tail.

The collision put his rudder out of commission, he said, and he was forced to make an emergency landing at Harbor Field using only the elevator and ailerons for control.

There was no statement from the Air Force. Both the Army and Air Force began immediate investigations.

The Air Force plane landed at

Coal Industry Plans To Boost Mine Capacity

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 29 (AP)—An executive of the Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. said today the soft coal industry will spend over one hundred million dollars this year for new mine capacity.

J. W. Kepler, sales vice president of the Western Pennsylvania firm, said projects for 30 million tons of replacement and additional capacity are now under way.

"Allowing three years for mine completions on the average," he said, "this year's capital expenditure for these mines will total over 200 million dollars."

He made comments in a speech prepared for the 42nd annual meeting of the National Assn. of Purchasing Agents.

"In 1955," he declared, "our industry stated its building program involving mounting capital costs while it still rested on a price that failed to support the investments of a mining plant over 20 years old."

But he added:

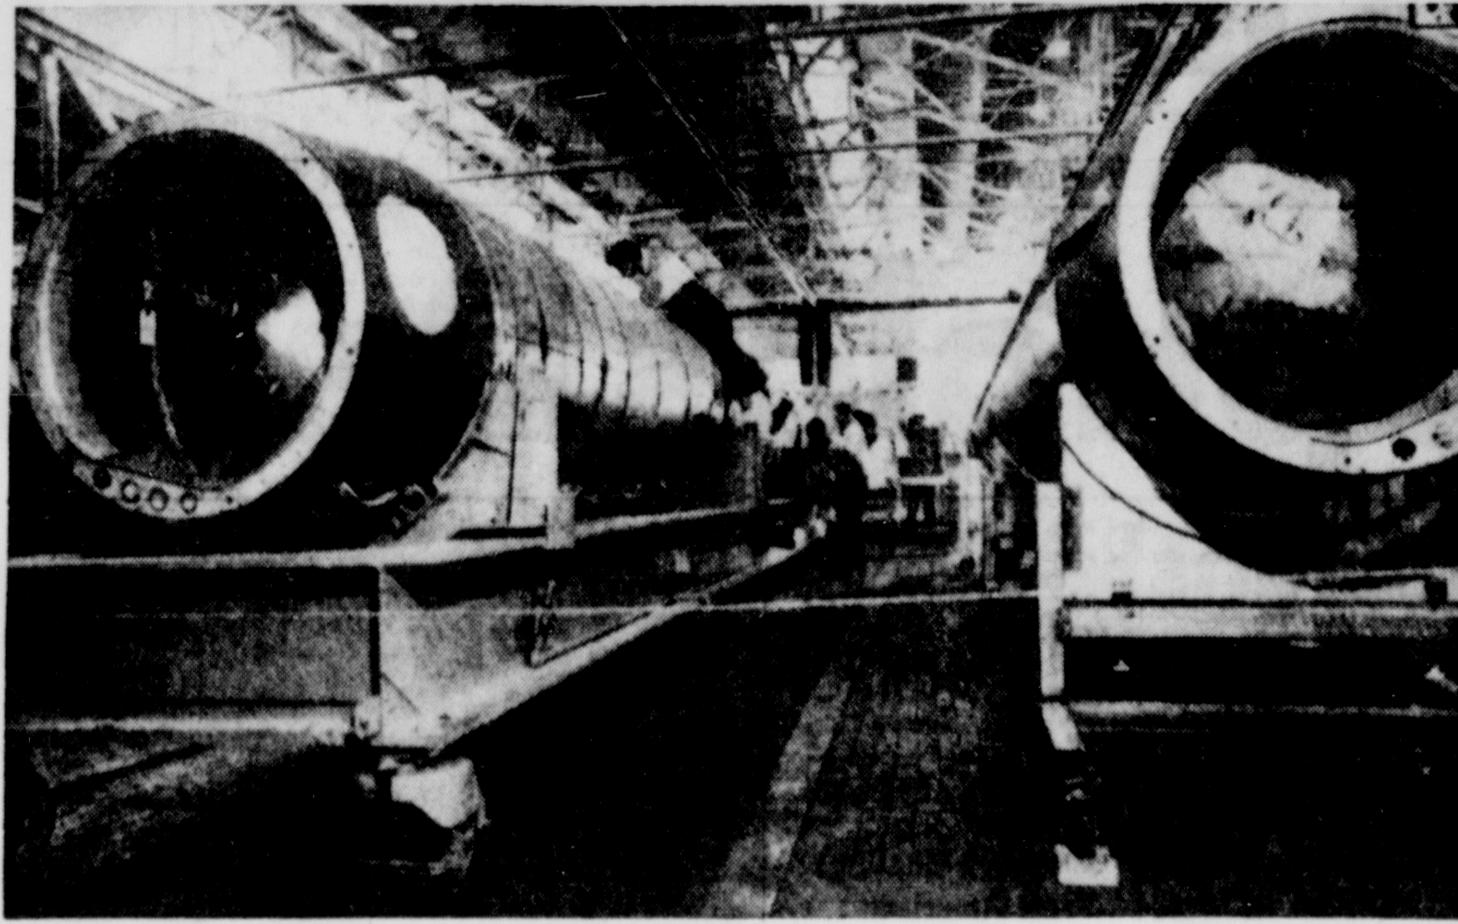

"It may be that 1957 prices, reflecting the adjustment of April 1 can give the return on investment that further mine expansion will need."

Kepler said changed marketing conditions for coal necessitate expansion.

The steady growth of steel, electric power and other uses, he said, have built up a demand for coal that exceeds tonnage lost in transportation and heating.

Whittier Appointed

ROCKVILLE, Md., May 29 (AP)—The Montgomery County Council today formally selected Dr. C. Taylor Whittier as the new superintendent of Montgomery County schools. His salary was set at $15,500 a year.

New Md. Traffic Speed Laws Take Effect Saturday

BALTIMORE, May 29 (AP)—You can drive faster on some Maryland highways beginning Saturday—and you can also be flagged to the curb for going too slowly.

New laws, effective June 1st, set these limits:

Limited access expressways: 60 m.p.h.

Dual-lane highways: 55 m.p.h.

Other highways: 50 m.p.h.

The present limit is a flat 55 on dual lane highways and 50 on all others unless otherwise designated.

Another new law provides fines for drivers who wilfully drive so slow as to impede the normal and reasonable movement of traffic.

Another law boosts school bus speed limits from 35 m.p.h. to 45.

The new regulations bring Maryland's speed limits more closely in line with recommendations of the National Safety Council.

Couple, Two Children Found Shot To Death

CHICAGO, May 29 (AP)—Police investigating neighbors' complaints of a series of shots today found four members of a West Side family, dead of bullet wounds.

The dead were Jon Zuniga, 30, his wife, Anna, 30; and their two children, John Jr., 5, and a 2-months-old baby.

Officers said a .32 caliber pistol clutched in Zuniga's right hand. Another pistol lay on the kitchen table.

No notes were found in the apartment.

Few Presidents Can Match Ike At Getting Along With Cabinet

WASHINGTON, May 29 (AP)—George M. Humphrey's resignation today as secretary of the Treasury points up this fact:

Few presidents have matched Dwight D. Eisenhower at getting along with his Cabinet.

This is only the fourth change in more than four years, and of the 10 original members, six still are on the job.

Secretary of Labor Martin P. Durkin failed to last out the first year, thereby surprising no one. He was a lonely Democrat toiling in a Republican vineyard.

Secretary of Health Oveta Culp Hobby, the only woman in Eisenhower's Cabinet, dropped out in 1955, and last year Secretary of Interior Douglas McKay quit to run, unsuccessfully, for the Senate seat held by Wayne Morse (D-Ore.).

The rest—Dulles, Wilson, Brownell, Summerfield, Benson and Weeks—have stayed, even though some of them have come in for some rough public criticism.

Whether this is a record, no one can say. For the number of Cabinet officers, and the importance the president has attached to their jobs, have varied greatly with the years.

The Cabinet is a curious invention, without legal standing and, were it not for the president, completely without power.

Yet under some presidents it has been a vigorous force in guiding the nation.

George Washington, for example, liked to discuss all problems with his Cabinet, and usually, if not always, went along with the majority vote. Other presidents especially in modern times, have paid little heed to it, historian Clinton Rossiter says.

The Cabinet has been a problem for at least a generation. Only tough custom and past glory have kept it from sliding noiselessly into oblivion," Rossiter says in his "The American Presidency."

"It is no longer a body under which the president can rely for sage advice on great issues of state; it is not even, in its formal composition, a gathering of his most important and intimate associates.

"It is at best a relic of a simpler past when department heads were thought to be men of broad interests and held in their own hands the whole power of administration."

But this theory isn't much help to anyone who wonders why one Cabinet, such as Eisenhower's, seems to stay together and others seem to fly apart.

Some of the early presidents—such as Jackson—had their cabinet members coming and going like a relay team. Some of the

Crislip Named Head Of West Va. Publicity Group

CHARLESTON, W. Va., May 29 (AP)—Don Crislip of Charleston will be the new executive director of the West Virginia Industrial and Publicity Commission, Gov. Underwood announced today.

Crislip will take over June 1 from Andrew V. Ruckman, who is resigning to become managing director of the Southern Nevada Industrial Foundation. Ruckman has been executive director of the commission since December, 1952.

Crislip, 42, is a former Charleston newspaper man. He was owner of the weekly Nicholas County Republican at Richwood for 10 years before returning here to be public relations director first for the Southern West Virginia Auto Club and at present for the West Virginia Education Assn.

Earlier presidents—such as Coolidge—have made few changes.

The personality of the president, of course, is a predominating factor.

Contractor Qualification Rules Approved By SRC

BALTIMORE, May 29 (AP)—Beginning July 1, a contractor will have to show the State Roads Commission he can do a job before he ever bids on it.

New, tougher regulations governing the prequalification of contractors were adopted today by the commission.

The new regulations were drawn up with the help of the Maryland Contractors Association and recommended by the commission's chief engineer, Norman Pritchett.

They were designed to prevent recurrences of some recent difficulties.

The new regulations require:

- All contractors to submit a statement showing the dollar volume of work they can handle at any one time.
- The prime contractor to list his equipment and experience which he can put to use on a contract before bidding on the contract instead of after receiving an award.
- The prime contractor to list with his bid the subcontractors he will use on a project.

The Greatest Memorials

In the world today are not towers of stone or bronze. They are the children who play about us . . . living, growing reminders of the responsibilities we owe to the men and women who made the supreme sacrifice for us.

It is our great responsibility to teach those untrained hands to work well, those immature minds to think clearly and honestly, those youthful hearts to hold inviolate the principles of their fathers, to cast out prejudice, greed and intolerance.

This is our treasured trust, our part in building the greatest memorial that mortal man can build . . .

THE LITTLE WOMAN

"My husband would kill me if I dirtied up his clean white sidewalks!"

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, May 29 (INS) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell's open letter to teenagers urging them to abandon all thought of giving up their schooling at the end of the current term comes right to the point—the point on the head of those who do plan such a sabotage of their lives.

"Because a student has to work harder than many of his fellow students does not mean that he can't achieve what he sets out to do. On the contrary, very often the so-called 'slow' student outstrips his more facile classmate simply because he has to work harder to get what he seeks. So don't give up. Concentration and effort are, in themselves, qualities in great demand."

"... Don't be hoodwinked by the feeling of independence that your summertime earnings may give you. If you consider your summer job in the light of what you hope to accomplish in the years ahead, you will find it lacking."

"... If you are thinking of dropping out of school you must be prepared to fact the fact that many occupational doors will be closed to you. You must be prepared to face the fact that you will probably earn 30 per cent less in your lifetime than your friends who graduate from high school. A high school diploma is worth thousands of dollars, and its value in terms of job opportunities and personal satisfaction cannot even be measured."

If a foreign power announced right now that it was going to send its fighter planes to strafe the highways on Memorial Day, the leaves of all police and firemen in the country would be cancelled. ing to do with national security, material, purchasing, morale and the like.

Well, the National Safety Council, with headquarters in Chicago, predicts that many people will be killed and injured on our highways over the Memorial Day holiday. It got three paragraphs in the papers.

President Eisenhower has told party leaders that he will attempt to thwart the nomination selection, as Mr. Truman steered hopeful in 1960 who is not a "modern Republican." A number of commentators have said that he will "veto" such a nominee. The President, of course, will have no such power over the convention, if it chooses to nominate an "un-modern Republican."

But if he retains anything like his present popularity, like sure-

Glass Plant Main Office Placed In Use

The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's Works 7 main office building has been turned over to the company by the contractor. Basically L-shaped, the two-story building is 165 feet by 150 and is approximately 80 percent of glass construction.

A tempered-plate structural glass was used. This specialty glass has the paint fused in and in this case is blue.

Offices in the new building include those of the plant manager, Robert M. Hainsfurther, the assistant manager, industrial relations department, labor relations, personnel, employment training, safety, first aid, industrial engineering and accounting.

Also in the building is the combination reception room and telephone operator's office. Lounge chairs and greenery grace the modern scene developed by an interior decorator. When the plant goes into operation, photographs taken in the plant will be used in preparing a photo-mural to decorate the wall on one side of the reception room.

Malcolm Gets New Appointment To School Board

A new commission from Governor Theodore R. McKeldin giving Kenneth R. Malcolm of Westernport a new five-year appointment as a member of the Allegany County Board of Education from the first Monday in May 1957 was received yesterday at the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Last year The Cumberland News called to the attention of Governor McKeldin and Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert that the members of the Allegany County Board of Education were receiving six-year appointments whereas the bill introduced in 1951 by then Senator Robert B. Kimble indicated that each member should be appointed for five years after original staggered terms of one, two, three, four and five years.

Minority Leader George R. Hughes Jr. introduced HB 45 in the House of Delegates last January to correct an inadvertent omission in the law regulating the Allegany County Board of Education.

As now constituted the term of Joseph M. Miller will expire in 1958, that of Mrs. Stanley Buckley in 1959, that of J. Goodloe Jackson in 1960, that of Mrs. Albert C. Cook in 1961 and that of Mr. Malcolm in 1962.

Children Receive School Orientation

A first grade orientation party was held recently at Cresaptown School and some 63 children who will start school next fall visited their teacher and became acquainted with the surroundings.

They were accompanied by their parents. There were 135 visitors at the school. Some 75 first graders are expected to start school in September.

Mrs. Lolita Llewellyn, first grade teacher, was assisted by parents in a number of games for the youngsters. Meanwhile parents of the prospective pupils met in the library with Miss Myra M. Nefflen, principal, Miss Betty Flake, elementary supervisor, Mrs. Novella Crowe and Mrs. Bertha Graham, teachers. A variety of songs and plays rounded out the activities.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Add Volume To Your Voice

A beautiful voice is wasted if you can't hear it. The volume of very many women's voices should be turned up for just this reason.

A lawyer friend of mine, speaking of the importance of a good voice in his profession, told me this story about a girl in his office. "She was the nicest girl you ever saw," he said, "but she never spoke above a hush. She always got the least important jobs, until one day she took dictation from Judge Corbin. Now there's a man who has a way with him."

TUNE IT UP

When she had to read paragraphs back to the judge and he couldn't understand her, he said, "That's a pretty voice you have, Miss S. Please tune it up so we can enjoy listening to you."

"She must have had a good voice all the time; because after she began to use it, everyone noticed it. Being proud of it and making herself heard surely made a big difference in our Miss S. She became the far-and-away favorite around the place until we lost her to a new job--keeping house for one of our up-and-coming junior partners."

PUT YOURSELF OVER

Actually, it isn't the volume of a louder voice that makes it offensive. It's a harsh quality. If you know how to keep harshness out of your voice, you can speak up with enough conviction to put your ideas and yourself over. We'd like to help with the booklet, "Your Most Attractive Voice." Zoo Men Surprised FRANKFURT, May 29 (P) — Zoo men analyzed rhinoceros milk to be prepared should something happen to the mother of Conrad, first baby rhino born in captivity here.

They were surprised to find rhino milk has only 1:13th as much fat as the average cow's. Conrad doesn't seem to mind. He weighs 350 pounds at age 5 months.

It is estimated that there are nearly one million men in the United States who wear some form of wig or toupee.

Area Man Gets 10 Years In Penitentiary

James Lincoln Jackson, 30, Judge Neil C. Fraley of Garrett County, Judge Kenneth McLaughlin of Washington County, and disqualification himself. Jackson's first move was to make a motion for a dismissal, a motion which was refused by Judge Henderson after a polite explanation. The defendant told the court that he would like to avoid a trial if possible, and he was advised that from a legal standpoint this would not be possible.

At another point Jackson asked the court for recess to enable him to "look up the law" on a matter of the case. The recess was denied.

Jackson then arose to argue that the court was without authority to try him, whereupon he was admonished to sit down and keep quiet.

Defense counsel Dwyer made a motion to have certain witnesses excluded from the court room during testimony and it was granted.

Deputy State's Attorney W. Warren Stultz recounted to the court the events leading to the charges against Jackson and told how two nurses discovered Jackson in a room in front of the convalescent home and of the alleged statements and advances made by Jackson to the women. Jackson managed to escape after an alarm was given and he was captured by city police some days later after he barricaded himself in his home.

The court room entrances were guarded by police and the defendant was surrounded by a cordon of deputies in view of his past difficulties with police.

May 30 A Day To Remember

The holiday Americans observe on May 30 has its roots in the Civil War. The custom of honoring the dead of that war originated in the South, and the day was first observed—before the end of the war—in a number of Southern states. The custom soon spread to the North, where it has become a tradition.

Memorial Day, however, no longer is devoted to the heroic dead of a single war. Today it is recognized as an occasion for paying homage to all those who gave their lives for their country—in all its wars—and also to the living who were ready to give that "last full measure of devotion." Indeed, the meaning of the holiday is broadening and deepening as time goes on. Every soldier's grave will be decorated, but so will countless other graves where no flag flies.

It is fitting that Americans pay tribute to those who were able to put country above self in the hour of the nation's need. That is true, and will remain true after men learn to solve their problems without war. It is also fitting that all those who played their part in life well and nobly should be honored. Each individual has someone near to him who knew how to serve a good end at his own personal cost.

This is a day to remember the human spirit—that divine inward urge that never has been or can be quenched however it may be misdirected, or exploited, or bruised by disappointment and defeat. On Memorial Day Americans revere all those who honored it, dying or living, and add a prayer, if they are grateful for them, that they may be worthy of them when their own ordeals, great or small, must be met.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

A Slice Of Life

This is a big nation of nearly 170,000,000 people and Mickey Cohen is a punk who lives in Los Angeles where he is well-known as a minor racketeer and treated that way by the local police. To show their contempt, they welcomed him home with an arrest not for murder or robbery, which may be regarded as major crimes and of some standing in the world in which the aforesaid Cohen seeks recognition, but for bum parking which shows what they think of him.

Mickey Cohen came to New York and got himself a fistful of free publicity as a prospective convert of Billy Graham which the Mick never became because he has no decency in his heart, only exhibitionism which he is given plenty of opportunity to display. Mickey Cohen was put on a television show run by one Mike Wallace, a show which I have never seen because it shows at a wrong hour for me; also, I prefer murders of people rather than of the King's English. My secretary tells me that I was once asked to join this enterprise but that she turned down the proposal all on her own.

Anyhow, I know nothing about Mike Wallace to his detriment except that he permitted the aforesaid Mickey Cohen to appear on his show and to use the occasion to denounce the very fine police of Los Angeles who refused to permit him to practice his misdemeanors and felonies in their bailiwick. It would seem that the American Broadcasting Company regrets that its facilities were used against Police Chief William H. Parker of Los Angeles by this no-good punk. Chief Parker is an excellent official who has a very difficult area to handle from the standpoint of police administration.

I am interested in a statement issued by Ted Yates, Jr., producer of the Mike Wallace show, which appeared in New York newspapers. He said:

"It was a complete surprise to us that he would use the words that he did."

Well, if such a brash person as Mickey Cohen is permitted on the air, what does one expect him to say? "How do you do? Is the rain in Spain exactly what is expected in Spain when it rains?" It is surprising that the two-bit guy did not use the language more normal to his kind. Why not invite people who go by such names as Gyp the Blood and Kid Twist to appear on television to tell the children of the country how to blind a guy for a couple of hundred bucks or how to drown a guy in a pair of cement shoes? What is the limit to what is to be brought into our homes? Maybe the producer of such a show as "What's My Line?" will improve his Trendex by having Lucky Luciano as the Surprise Guest and the "$64,000 Question" will find a murderer whose knowledge of literature runs from Beowulf to Faust Baldwin. Where are we going to stop?

So, Ted Yates, Jr., says:

"Our function is not to hurt anyone for any reason. We're trying to show a real slice of American life. And Mickey Cohen and what he represents is a slice of American life whether we like it or not."

If Mr. Yates wants to cut the American population pie, Mickey Cohen and "what he represents" is not a slice of American life, but a crumb, a crummy crumb of it. Why did Mr. Yates not put on his show the men who blinded Vic Riesel and did not even know who he was? Their objectivity was superb: they would blind anyone if there was a buck in it for them. They did not love or hate Riesel; they did not know him. They did not even know his name. They just got some dough to put acid in his eyes. Isn't it reasonable for a man to earn a living?

Are we to believe that no brilliant showman has found a way to put them on television to let them tell what a slice of American life they are?

Look, Mr. Yates. I have news for you. Every city has a sewer, a foul-smelling, ugly sewer full of dirt. The sewer is not uncovered for anyone to know that it is impossible to have a city without a sewer.

Democrats In Congress Prove Short-Sighted

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — It is not too soon to appraise the place in history that the Democratic-controlled Congress of today may achieve if it pursues its present course. It could become known as the Congress of narrow vision, the Congress without a heart and without a spirit—the Congress that strained at a gnat and swallowed a camel.

For the biggest concern of the world today is war. To prevent war the American people are willing to make money sacrifices now to avoid human sacrifices later on. The way to prevent war is to reach the hearts and minds of the people behind the Iron Curtain and to be adequately prepared on the military side. Armament costs us around $40 billion a year and is necessary to deter impulsive action by dictators. Yet propaganda to influence and persuade the peoples in Eastern Europe, Asia and Africa to withhold from dictators the power to make war is relatively inexpensive.

Soviet Russia today spends many billions a year on propaganda. America spends just a few millions. But the President's request for $144,000,000 for the U. S. Information Agency may, under proposals now pending in Congress, be cut down to $80,200,000. The myopic reason given for this is that the latter sum is more than the average spent by the U. S. Information Agency in the last few years. This is to say that the world has stood still, that the importance of reaching the hearts and minds of people behind the Iron Curtain and in the so-called "uncommitted" areas of the world can be averaged mathematically by looking backward instead of forward.

Actually, the situation in the Middle East, for example, has grown more, instead of less, complicated. Today the Soviet government influences, if it doesn't completely control, the press and radio of Egypt and Syria. These trouble areas can increase in number overnight. The United States, by means of the Eisenhower Doctrine, has built up its friendships and is making progress among some of the Arab states, but it costs money to carry on propaganda.

There are all sorts of self-appointed experts in America who have called attention to some examples of waste and inefficiency in the U. S. Information Agency. Certainly the American government is a novice in the art of propaganda. Mistakes have been inevitable. But they are the price of experience in an unfamiliar field.

Judging by the statements made by the Democratic leaders in Congress, they have cut appropriations for the U. S. Information Agency to some extent because of a fear that American news services might be deprived of opportunities to sell their wares abroad. This is understandable materialism but at the same time it is shortsighted Americanism. For Soviet Russia doesn't permit the daily reports of the American news services to be printed behind the Iron Curtain.

Nor are there any radio broadcasting stations inside the United States that can reach behind the Iron Curtain without effective relays abroad. It takes a special kind of equipment and transmitters, located in strategic places around the world, to get the messages across to the peoples in vast areas of the globe where either the normal commercial channels are barred or media are unavailable through which to present news dispatches from outside the country.

Driver Education Course Should Be Required

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

this age are regarded as the safest drivers of all. Thereafter, the incidence of accidents rises and older women, for some unknown reason, take to speeding. They give the police more trouble than men of the same age.

Theoretically, the best and safest age for driving should be between 20 and 35. This is a healthy age bracket because the majority have good eyesight, depth perception, glare recovery, and reaction time. But statistics show that the accident rate is highest in this group and the type of traffic casualty is the most serious.

In this respect, their crashes have nothing to do with health, skill, and disability. There is no rime or reason to these mishaps and many traffic experts have concluded it is a stage that people go through, comparable to other phases in growth and development.

Young adolescents are rock 'n' roll fans and grade school boys are the ones who come home with torn pants and skinned knees. We also have the hamburger, coke, and peanut butter sandwich eras as well as the period when there is a compulsion to jump over every square on the sidewalk that contains a contractor's name. Every puddle on the street may tempt a boy of 4 but the 8 year old is not attracted.

At any rate, numerous accidents in which young people are involved are regarded as an attitude problem which passes with maturity. Women do not go through this stage except after age 60. High school training helps the driver to mature.

Some individuals should not drive for physical reasons. The time will come when a physical and mental examination will be a requirement for a driver's license. This checkup could be done in high school and, to avoid duplication, the findings might be sent to the draft board. High schools giving this course might issue the driver's license since they are in a position to uncover defects that interfere with good driving.

Federal Law Took Twelve Years of Aeronaves de Mexico, which, through Mexican directors, have influence with the Mexican Government.

Pryor Denies

Charming Pan American vice President Sam Pryor, however, denies this. He has looked me straight in the eye many times and sworn to high heaven that Pan American has never used one little iota of influence through its Mexican subsidiaries to stop other American airlines from coming into Mexico.

"We're not holding them up," says Sam, his baby-blue eyes looking horrified at the thought.

"All they have to do is make arrangements with the Mexican Government."

However, here is what the secret document, which Pan Am doesn't want published, says about the way Pan Am influenced the Mexican Government to bar other airlines.

The document is a formal, though still confidential report written by George A. Brownell, who went to Mexico as "personal representative of the President" to investigate this in 1948.

"By all the tests which are usual in this country," wrote Brownell, "there would seem to be no question but that Pan American controls CMA."

He then went into great detail to show how CMA's influence with the Mexican Government was the chief roadblock against a bilateral treaty with the United States.

"I personally have no doubt that if Pan American wished to do so, it would be able to reverse the position which CMA has taken," wrote Brownell in his "confidential report."

"I also believe that if CMA's position were reversed, and if it supported the proposed bilateral, the agreement would be executed in short order."

"One must be very naive," concluded Brownell, "and also disregard all principles established by the SEC, ICC, and many courts, to assume that Pan American does not control CMA in all important respects."

"If, as I believe, CMA's opposition is the chief obstacle to the proposed bilateral agreement, one has to be still more naive to exempt and excuse Pan American from responsibility in the premises."

No wonder Pan Am went on record so vigorously with the CAB to keep this document secret.

On The Side

By E. V. Durling

Whence then this strange increase of joy?

He, only he can tell, who matched like me.

If such another happy man there be,

Has by his own experience tried,

How much the wife is dearer than the bride!

—Lyttleton

(The above lines were written on the fifth anniversary of the author's marriage. In addition to having a beautiful and loving wife he was the very proud father of three wonderful children.)

Have you an "occupational" surname such as Carpenter, Farmer, Painter, Butcher or Cooper? If so, you know how your original ancestor made a living. The subject of "occupational" names came up at a social gathering the other night and a brown-eyed, honey blonde spoke up saying, "I never knew anybody named Plumber." Have you noticed how these blondes, especially the brown-eyed ones manage to center attention on themselves by asking provocative questions? I never knew anybody named Plumber either. The reason for that probably is that when the "occupational" name custom was in vogue there were no plumbers. Who was the first plumber? Ask your plumber about that to see if he is on the beam as to the history of his trade.

AMONG THE MARRIED

The Hollywood record for number of children is eight, held by Maureen O'Sullivan. Rosemary Clooney appears out to break this record. Married four years she has two children, expects another this summer. This brings to mind that when Ava Gardner married Frank Sinatra she said, "I want lots of children. I have always wanted to emulate my grandmother who had 19 children."

SIDE LIGHTS

What do women who marry twice do with the wedding rings slipped on their fingers by their first husbands? Norma Shearer keeps on wearing her first wedding ring. She put her second wedding ring over it. The eminent photographer Cecil Beaton says Greta Garbo is the world's most photogenic female. Most Swedish women are quite photogenic. Next in that respect are the Italians. Most unphotogenic are Englishwomen.

INFLATION

How long have governments been worrying about that thing called "inflation"? Can't answer that exactly. Aristophanes discussed inflation in a play written in 405 B. C., over 2,300 years ago!

500 Expected At Bruce High Alumni Event

Banquet, Dance Slated June 8

WESTERNPORT — Five hundred members and guests are expected to attend the annual dinner of the Alumni Association to be held in the new Bruce High School Saturday June 8, according to Hugh Wilson, president of the association.

Reservations for the banquet should be in by Saturday, June 1.

Preceding the banquet at 6:30 an organ recital beginning at 5:30 will be given by Mr. Lucas of Frostburg and will also continue after the dinner.

The annual election of officers will be held at a short business meeting after the dinner.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, May 29 (INS)—Belafonte could certainly act it, can you imagine on this Memorial Day Ray Milland telephoning all the way from England to tell July and he'll give Columbia his decision at that time. I hear he was homesick and wanted to know what the weather was like in California.

While I had Ray on the wire, I asked him to give me some news. He said that he and Milland are flying home June 6 to attend their son Danny's graduation from Lawrenceville.

Seventeen-year-old Danny, Ray said, is the youngest member of his "Gun" agile Annie plays a typical class and goes to Stanford in the Stanwyck role, being a Texas girl about to be hanged who escapes to Paris with Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks to get some clothes," said a fat most girls wouldn't Ray. "We come out to California, then I have to fly back to London June 15 to finish my picture, 'High Flight,' but Mal stays in California for a month, Decatur starts June 1 in Mexico with

"Mal (Mrs. Milland) has gone over the border into Mexico, only to Paris with Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks to be tracked down by Rory Calhoun in the 'Hired Gun' for Rory's and Vic Orsatti's company, Rovitz, and I talked to both boys over the telephone and Vic says shooting starts June 1 in Mexico with

"I'll be in Europe still longer," Ray Nazarro directing.

Bill Bendix' daughter has lost 177 pounds! Lorraine (Mrs. Dick Munroe) has always been plump, but she gained 100 pounds in one year until she weighed 297. She "Golden Boy" as a musical and was embarrassed to meet people having Harry Belafonte play the and was terribly depressed.

Then came the revolutionary will demand some changes operation called Jeono, the first made in the role of a conceived of its kind performed in California prize-fighter, which brought fame—not many operations of the unknown William Holden to its kind have been performed some 41 pictures ago. But anywhere in the world. Some of the intestines were removed and the stomach was made smaller.

A whole new life has opened up for Lorraine, who goes into a play, "Bell, Book and Candle" on July 24 and into her father's "Life of Riley" TV series.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Starlet Joanna Moore, who is threatened with the loss of hearing because of a nerve irritation in her ear, has undergone surgery. She is Producer Al Zugsmith's discovery.

Joan Seberg arrives June 9 to tour the country with the Prelinger movie "Joan of Arc." She's Director Otto Prelinger's pet protege.

"Pajama Game" opens June 6 at the Riviera in Las Vegas. Bell boys, elevator girls, etc., will wear pajamas—or so Benny Goffstein, here to meet the New York cast, tells me.

Frank Ross, comic of the Mary Kaye Trio, welcomes his second child in September. That makes three babies born this year to this group. Mary Kaye and her brother Norman each had their second babies earlier in the year.

That's all today. See you Saturday.

33 Drivers To Start In 41st Indianapolis 500 Today

150,000 Fans Expected To Witness Race

Warm And Humid Weather Predicted; Begins At Noon

BY JERRY LISKA

INDIANAPOLIS, May 29 (AP) — The greatest field of drivers in the event's 41-year history will roar off tomorrow in the world's most thrilling race to nowhere, the Indianapolis 500.

Warm weather with a possibility of afternoon showers is predicted for the Memorial Day feature which will mark upwards of 150,000 into the 441-acre plot. The race starts at 11 a.m. (EST).

How many of the 33 starters will be buzzing when the 200-lap chase around the 2½-mile course ends is conjectural.

But, if the cars stand up the drivers figure to give an acid test to a plot to reduce the killing pace with reduced engine sizes. The race record is 130.840 m.p.h. set in 1954.

O'Connor On Pole

Headed by Pat O'Connor, pole position winner with a 10-lap 143.948 m.p.h. average, the field includes 16 men who have gone all the way in the 500 and another dozen who have been battle-tested in the Brickyard.

There are only five rookies in the race and it is worthy of note that a first-time pilot has not won since 1927, exactly 30 years ago, when George Souders did the trick.

The drivers themselves think O'Connor or Troy Ruttman, only former champion (1952), will get the victory kiss from actress Cyd Charisse. Ruttman is driving a creation of A. J. Watson, who built the winners of the past two 500 winners for Tulsa's racing man, John Zink.

Many others think "Grandpa" Paul Russo, who had the best time in the 10-lap qualifying test with 144.817 m.p.h., will ride of the "upstarts" in the dart for the winner's share of a potential $300,000 jackpot.

Russo Is Veteran

Russo, veteran of 11 Indianapolis races, will drive his Novi from 10th position, in the fourth row. Last year, Russo started eighth and was averaging 142.255 m.p.h. when he bowed out with a blowout of the 22nd lap.

That race went to Pat Flaherty, a Chicagoan now sidelined with injuries which nearly claimed his life in a later race at Springfield, Ill.

Ruttman's chances are based on his ideal No. 3 spot in the first row which gives Zink's No. 1 driver from Lynwood, Calif., a good chance to grab the lead on the first turn.

And that first turn provides one of sportdom's most thrilling spectacles. After two laps behind the ceremonial pace car (a Mercury this year), the 33 racing cars roar into the actual start.

It remains to be seen whether the engine size reduction will prevent an attack on the late Bill Vukovich's race record of 130.840 in 1954.

The engine size was reduced from a maximum of 274 to 256 cubic inches (from 182 to 171 for supercharged cars). However, this hasn't slowed the Novicars, which were under that limit before.

Cancer Drive Total Soars Over $10,000

Allegany County's 1957 Cancer Crusade reached a record total of $10,272.42 today with house-to-house canvass reports from Little Orleans, Ellerslie, Midland, Flintstone and several other communities and a check for $400 from the Amelle Employees Charity Fund.

Today's figure is more than $3,000 above last year's final total, and is believed to be the largest amount ever raised in a cancer drive in the county.

William Walsh, president of Allegany County Chapter, Maryland Division, Inc., American Cancer Society, said.

Particularly gratifying to campaign officials, Walsh added, was the $83.50 reported from Little Orleans in the far eastern section of the county where an excellent job was done by Mrs. Dale Sipes, Mrs. Robert Twigg, Mrs. A. R. Shaffer and Mrs. Martin L. Golden. They visited all homes in the wide area to collect the largest amount ever raised in the community in any fund-raising effort.

Other recent reports follow: Ellerslie, $101.75; Mrs. A. B. Stahlman, captain.

Cumberland Lions Club, $66.50; Midland, $156.83; Mrs. Clement Stakem, captain.

Gilmore, $21.46; Mrs. Percy Michaels and Mrs. Harry Warnick, co-captain.

Flintstone-Polish Mountain, $90.92; Mrs. Alma Hoffman, captain.

Bedford Road (beyond city limits), $51.10; Mrs. Fred Purcell, captain.

Union Grove, $32.25; Mrs. Albert Windish, chairman.

Homewood Addition, $19.14; Mrs. Henry Kniemier, captain.

House-to-house canvass reports have been received from all sections of the county except Westerport-Lake.

"We hope to close the books on this year's campaign at noon next Tuesday, June 4," Walsh said this morning, adding that it is hoped that the approximately score of men having special gifts cards make their returns not later than that time.

Tax Limitation Petitions Are Given To City

4,530 Names Are Listed On Sheets

Petitions calling for a referendum on a proposal to increase the city's tax limitation were presented to Wallace G. Ullery, city clerk, yesterday afternoon.

Albert A. Doub, local attorney, told Mr. Ullery there were 4,530 names of voters on the 337 petition sheets.

Mr. Ullery said he had received two mailed petitions, and Doub pointed out that about 100 of the total petitions he was presenting came in by mail.

Several hundred additional names will be delivered to the city clerk by Saturday, Mr. Doub said.

The petitions will be formally presented to the Mayor and Council on Monday morning, Mr. Ullery said.

The petitions call for a referendum on Charter Resolution No. 5, which would give the Mayor and Council authority to raise the tax limitation for city operations from $1.25 to $1.50.

City officials have emphasized that the charter change is not a tax increase, but merely provides the Mayor and Council with a 25-cent "cushion" to be used if budget requests exceed expected revenues.

Machinery for the petition count was set up during the count on petitions calling for a vote on a proposed sale of a $500,000 Urban Development bond issue.

Street Lighting Event June 12 At Corriganville

A gala celebration is being planned on the evening of June 12 in Corriganville — that's the night the street lights recently installed in that community will officially be switched on.

Gordon A. Werner, president of the Light and Improvement Association, instrumental in having the lights installed, said plans for the celebration, which will include a parade and square dancing, were made at a meeting Tuesday night.

Various committees were appointed to take charge of the event, which will open with a parade at 7:30 p.m. It will form in the vicinity of the Methodist Church in Corriganville and go through the main part of town to the ball park.

An official of the Potomac Edison Company will be guest speaker at the celebration and Mr. Werner will throw the switch. William Mathews will be parade marshal.

Planning to participate in the revue are members of the Corriganville Volunteer Fire Company, the Ladies Auxiliary unit, Boys Club and Girls Club, as well as the Women's Society of the Methodist and Reformed churches.

Mr. Werner said it is hoped the drum and bugle corps of Henry Hart Post 1411, VFW, also will take part in the parade. The "switch-on" ceremony is expected to take place about 8:30 p.m.

Officers of the association and committees will be on hand for the program. The evening's activities will include a square dance on the ball field. Refreshments will be available.

Actually the lights were turned on May 15 and the work by PE crews was completed before an appropriate program could be lined up. Last February Joseph C. Stuckey, president of the fire company, called a meeting of interested residents to make plans for the project.

To Entertain Faculty

Centre Street PTA will entertain with a dinner for the faculty June 6. It will be at Moon's Dining Room at 6:30. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Kathryn Kilroy, PA 4-2096.

History Instructor Speaks Here

Forestry Camp Salvages Boys For Citizenship

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON
News Staff Writer

The Green Ridge Forestry activities. Movies are shown bi-weekly, and there is a craft and rehabilitation of wayward boys.

With present accommodations and facilities somewhat limited and a staff of eight supervisors or counselors, the camp still makes giant strides in helping a boy become a "good citizen" once more.

Unfortunately, according to camp directors and officials of Allegany County Juvenile Court, time and inadequate facilities often are a handicap in the camp's efforts to straighten out a boy who has "done wrong" or who has no home of his own and is a ward of the welfare board.

The Green Ridge Forestry Camp for Boys is a specialized institution operated by the Maryland State Department of Public Welfare in cooperation with the State Department of Forests and Parks. It was set up in the belief that boys could be guided back to good citizenship while performing valuable work for the state.

Work Opportunities

The camp is organized to give service to older boys who are in good physical health and who are interested in active outdoor living. While at the camp a boy is given an opportunity to work on selected forestry projects under the supervision of its staff.

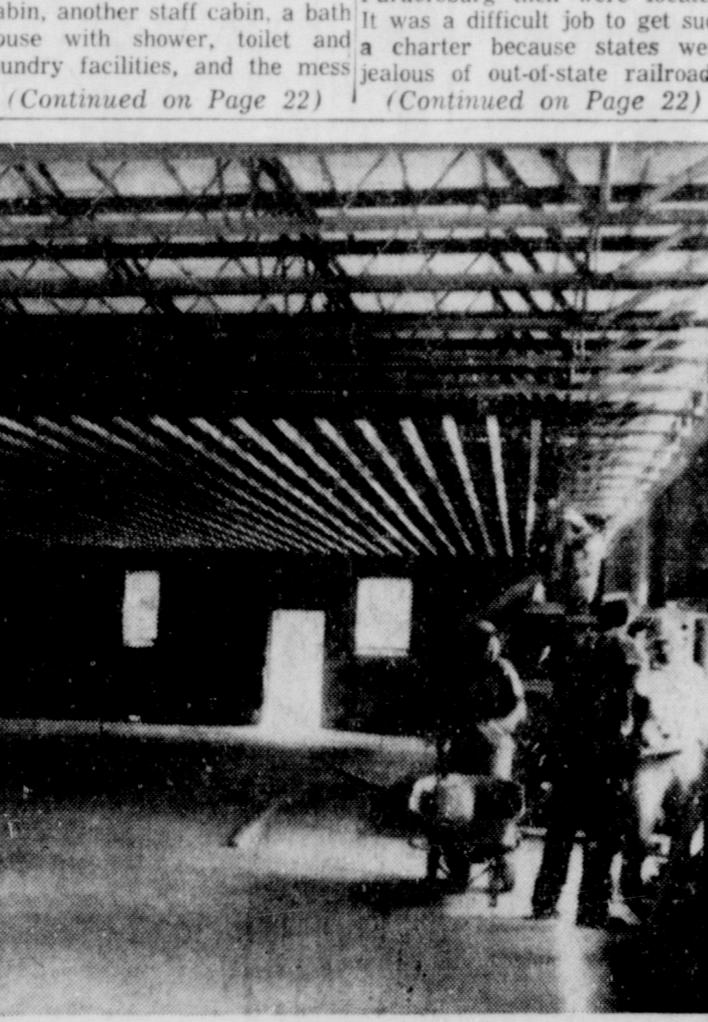

He spends approximately 35 hours a week with the forestry department and the remaining time in the camp itself under the supervision of its staff.

Boys at the camp may engage in tree planting, landscaping, park beautification and improvements, road stabilization and repairs, tree felling, flood control, fire fighting, pulp wood projects, cement block manufacturing and masonry work, painting, carpentry, camp maintenance and food preparation and service.

The boys are given a small wage for service by the forestry department at the rate of 50 cents a day. They receive additional amounts when they aid with fire fighting, which is voluntary.

The camp, located about 20 miles east of Cumberland, just off U.S. Route 40 on Green Ridge Mountain, is easy to reach. Relatives may visit at any time between 4 p.m. and 9 p.m. on weekdays and anytime between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

In addition to work with the forestry department the camp offers a variety of recreational, educational, religious and social

Police Ask Drivers To 'Slow Down'

Maryland State Police at LaVale Barracks received orders yesterday afternoon that every effort be put forth to prevent fatal accidents and injuries on area highways over the Memorial Day holiday weekend.

Lt. William E. O'Hara, commander of the barracks, said yesterday that word was received from Col. Elmer F. Munshower, State Police Superintendent, urging state troopers to make an increased effort to hold fatal accidents to a minimum.

The holiday safety campaign went into effect at 5 p.m. yesterday and will continue until midnight Sunday. All activity not directly connected with law enforcement will be held to an absolute minimum, according to the dispatch.

This will enable the maximum number of troopers to patrol the highways. All criminal investigation not urgent or absolutely essential will be held in abeyance.

A vigorous safety campaign entitled "Slow Down and Live," sponsored by the National Safety Coordinators, opens today and will be stressed throughout the summer months until Labor Day, September 2.

The Maryland Traffic Commission is asking every man, woman and child in the state to back this program in order to make it a success.

West Virginia and Pennsylvania authorities are working hand-in-hand with Maryland authorities and law enforcement units of the nation in the campaign.

Safety groups have pointed to the grim fact that many motorists who leave home for a Memorial Day holiday of travel on the highway will not return home alive. Many others will be injured in highway accidents.

Various units in the parade will assemble at the State Armory at 10:30 a.m. and march at 11 a.m. The review will proceed from the Armory to Union Street, George Street, Baltimore Street, Cumberland Street, Allegany Street, Fayette Street to the cemetery.

Flood Control Inspection Is Slated June 4

Final Check Set On Section 1 Job

The final inspection of Section 1 of the Potomac River phase of the Cumberland - Ridgeley flood protection program will be conducted June 4 at 1:30 p.m. Rex E. Dexter, resident engineer of the Corps of Engineers, announced yesterday.

The formal inspection will include all of the East Ridgeley flood levee and the West Cumberland levee from the Moose Home to the new Blue Bridge.

Other portions of the $817,490 contract awarded to the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago, in mid-1955 were turned over to the city about a year ago.

The same company was recently awarded the contract for Section 2 of the Potomac River phase and is now working on channel excavation on the Ridgeley side near Smith Island.

Albrecht crews building walls for Section 2 and 3 of the Wills Creek phase are stopped temporarily in an area between Valley Street and the B&O Viaduct.

A drill rig is making test borings to determine what lies below the surface.

Crews which have been excavating for toe walls in the bed of the creek have not been able to find rock bottom where it was expected.

Officials said it is possible plans may have to be revised if suitable rock base for the toe walls cannot be located at a reasonable depth.

Meanwhile, crews of the Hazelwood Construction Company are forming the last lift of the flood wall just below the Baltimore Street Bridge.

When concrete is poured, crews can proceed with the construction of the temporary bridge which will carry light traffic while the new bridge is being built.

The flood wall at that point must be in before the temporary span is completed.

Musical Event Held By School

The elementary grades of Pennsylvania Avenue School presented a musical program yesterday afternoon at the school.

The program consisted of class singing, selections on the flutes and keyboard work by the various classes. Miss Anita Dickens, music resource teacher, and Robert O. Nutter, music teacher at Fort Hill High School, directed the program.

Mrs. Rosaline Nutter's third grade class presented an original musical story while the third grade class of Miss Mary L. Malcomb sang and danced to several selections.

The third grade class of Miss Patricia Martz and the fourth grade class of Miss Mildred DeMoss sang several selections and played several numbers on their flutes.

The rooms of Miss Alberta Warnick and Miss Amy Meek presented keyboard work, songs by the class and flute selections.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Nutter, played several selections that included waltzes and marches.
